Yarn Expo Autumn 2025: bridging East and West to drive sustainable demand

Shanghai, 31 July 2025. With eco-transition an inevitable global phenomenon, the entire textile chain is evolving to fulfil corresponding commitments and regulations. As Asia’s leading yarn and fibre trade fair, Yarn Expo has been at the forefront of promoting eco-friendliness in upstream sourcing. Celebrated for its international participation and comprehensive offerings, the autumn fair will present an array of over 500 exhibitors from around the world, many with diverse sustainable practices and products. This year, exhibitors are also encouraged to undergo the independent Economy Check, prioritising eco-credentials. From 2 to 4 September in Shanghai, the upcoming edition is poised to further ease industry players towards the collective goal of a more sustainable textile future.

Other than the burgeoning market for recycled yarn, which is projected to reach USD 8.31 billion by 2030 (CAGR: 7.8%)<sup>1</sup>, eco-textile demands are reflected and addressed in various forms. While some companies are more inclined to develop innovative solutions, others utilise existing green materials and processes in their production, backed by recognised certifications. Yarn Expo’s effectiveness for providing a sustainable platform for industry exchange has been commented on by numerous exhibitors and visitors. The fair’s extensive international reach, wide product offering, and impactful fringe programme have increased exposure to innovative trends, propelling the industry towards a greener development landscape.

Eco-conscious exhibitors gathering from Asia, Europe and beyond

This year, visitors can find a wealth of exhibitors onsite, with many representing a spectrum of sustainable practices. In addition to Coreshtech Co Ltd from Korea, Perino by Woolyarns from New Zealand, and Sematex For Flax Products from Egypt, other featured exhibitors include:

Docotton Group AS (Türkiye): a pioneering producer dedicated to creating eco-friendly products from cotton and other natural fibres. It emphasises ethical sourcing and transparency throughout the supply chain. Offering a diverse range of yarns, for both apparel and home textiles, Docotton caters to both B2B and B2C markets, consistently seeking new methods for sustainable and efficient production.

Hai Thien Synthetic Fiber Limited Company (Vietnam): a prominent producer of various synthetic fibres, including polyester and nylon, which are widely used in textiles and apparel. The company innovates for the evolving market through continuous technology and research investment, and is committed to minimising environmental impact and promoting eco-friendly materials. Some of its main products include: recycled fibre for filling 1.2d-30d, recycled polyester staple fibre OB free, recycled coloured polyester staple fibre 1.2d-30d.

Jiangxi Hengbang Textile Co Ltd (China): a prominent manufacturer specialising in diverse textile products, including cotton and synthetic fabrics. Exported worldwide, its products are tailored for applications ranging from apparel to home textiles, for industrial uses and more. The company utilises eco-friendly materials and processes, which reduce its environmental footprint. Recycled cotton yarn is one of its featured products.

Shri Madhusudan Rayons Pvt Ltd (India): well established in the industry, the company is particularly known for its rayon and other synthetic fibre production. Upholding innovation, sustainability, safety, and quality, the company is certified in a range of standards to ensure the products meet both domestic and international benchmarks. These include: ISO 9001, ISO 14001, OHSAS 18001, GOTS, OEKO-TEX.

The Movement B.V. (Netherlands): the company leverages technologies from the Netherlands and promotes the revolutionary Poly Lana® fibre. The product has the softness of a synthetic woolly fibre, but with a significantly lower environmental impact than acrylic. It is also versatile, traceable, 100% recyclable, and can be presented in both round and flat cross sections, offering countless ideas for innovative textile development.

As part of the Texpertise Network, the fair continually prioritises its own sustainability efforts. This year, concordant with Intertextile Apparel, Yarn Expo Autumn encourages exhibitors to go through the Econogy Check, an independent verification tool aligned with over 100 globally recognised certifications and standards, covering sustainable supply chains, materials & processes, and strategy & innovation. Together with Intertextile Apparel's Econogy Hub, Econogy Talks, Econogy Tours and other green features onsite, the platform will create a comprehensive sustainability experience for the entire textile value chain.

Yarn Expo Autumn will be held concurrently with Intertextile Shanghai Apparel Fabrics – Autumn Edition, CHIC, and PH Value. The four fairs will bring the fibre and yarn, apparel fabrics and accessories, fashion, and knitted garments industries together under one roof, with the resultant synergy allowing exhibitors and buyers to maximise their business opportunities.

Yarn Expo Autumn is organised by Messe Frankfurt (HK) Ltd and the Sub-Council of Textile Industry, CCPIT. For more details, please visit: www.yarn-expo-autumn.com.
